COLONIAL THEATRE.

"Frozen Trails," Mammoth Two Reel Pathe Feature for Today.

A wonderful story of the forests of the great northwest is told in two reels at the Colonial theatre today under the title of Frozen Trails. It abounds in thrilling moments and sensational inchents follow each other in rapid succession. Edwin August, that peeriess and finished actor now with the Vitagraph company, appears in one of the most exquisite picture creations of the day and hour. It is entitled Silent Trails, and is a supero story of the love that might have been. It is purely western in character, and so intensa is it that he wonderful story of the forests of been. It is purely western in char-acter, and so intense is it, that but two characters are employed to depict the forceful story. Mary Charleson plays the sturdy western girl. The patrons are assured of two delight-fully refined and entertaining comematrons are assured of two delightfully refined and entertaining comedies, both of which feature Wallie Van, the dapper little popularity sport and pretty Lillian Walker and her dimples. The first is entitled The Speeder's Revenge, and is a truly speedy automobile story in which the peeved and fined autoists seek revenge upon the unsuspecting town constables. The second is entitled Art for a Heart, and is a story of life. for a Heart, and is a story of life among the art students. A delight-ful scenic film is also billed, entitled Prehistoric English Quarry. A prehistoric quarry, believed to have belonged to the ancient Britons, was recently unearthed by accident at Gaping Hills, Hitchin, Hereford, England. A plow horse was walking along a deep furrow in a field when he stepped into a circular hole about two feet in diameter. Two flint implements were found, such as were used in ancient quarries.

English gas companies recently bought more than one million tons of coal from Germany.

der the auspices of Colonel Jeremiah Wadsworth chapter. From there the party goes to Springfield on Tuesday.

DANDRUFF SOON RUINS THE HAIR

Makes It Lifeless, Dull, Dry, Brittle and Thin.

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring: use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the flower line.

moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will be silky, fluffy, lustrous, soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much danduff you have. This simple remedy never fails. never fails.

MARCHING AFTER WASHINGTON. By Following His Route From Philadelphia to Cambridge.

What promises to be the most interesting celebration of the Fourth of July this year is that planned by a committee of the society of Sons of the American Revolution—a journey from Philadelphia to Cambridge, following the route which Washington took when he came to take command of the Revolutionary army, and in commemoration of the event. Wash-ington traveled from Philadelphia to Cambridge horseback, but those who will now march after him-139 years after-will use the automobile.

The trip will be marked by patriotic observances all along the way and escorts of historic military organizations are promised the marchers. The famous Philadelphia City troup will go to the Connecticut line, where the Governor's Foot guard will reveive the committee. In Massachusetts the Worcester Continentals and the Lex-ington Minutemen will perform the same gracious duty. The Ancient and Honorabie artillery company and other organizations in and around Boston will probably figure at appropria-

The committee, their military escort and volunteer pilgrims, who are expected to join the march in great numbers will arrive in Cambridge on July 2, as Washington did. They will not need to leave Philadelphia, how-ever, until June 30, whereas Wash-ington departed thence on the twen-ty-first. The culminating celebration at Cambridge will continue over the Fourth, and will swell to unprecedented proportions the cusomary programme in that historic neighborhood. Norwich members of the Sons of the Revolution are taking particular in-terest in the part of the plan involv-ing Connecticut. On Saturday morning June 27, the line reaches Bridgeport and in the afternoon New Haven, stopping at the Hotel Taft, the site of Washington's stopping place. New Haven will be the Sunday stop-ping place, the Governors Foot Guard and Yale students and alumni acting as escorts. There will be appropriate observances on Sunday in New Haven. On Monday, June 29, the journey is continued through Wethersfield to Hartford where there will be lunch,

Each stitch, whose tracery is graced
With art no modernist may know?
Ah, up-to-dateness has effaced
The kindliness of long ago.

Superlatively, smart to stare
With sneers upon some tidy placed
Upon a spindle legged chair,
Where rested many a gray old hear
In weariness after the smart
Of work was done? O modernist,
So supercillous, your art
Has lost all sweetness; you have missed
The secret when you lose the heart,

The old plush covered album now
Is but a thing of fun today,
A gallant's versified love vow
Is naught to you but gayety.
Unmoved you con the pages o'er
Filled with the faces of the dead,
Love and devotion are no more
To you than summer breezes sped.

Ah, modernist, if you could show In your bewilderment and haste Dishes like those made long ago, Your art would be semething Four art would be something tasts.

But your thick clumsiness of style Contains no graces to outlast.

The touch of time; 'twill ne'er beguns A passing glance when you have passed.

E'en the dances that you dance
Have not the graces of the waitz.
The songs you sing do not entrance—
They're duli and vapid, shallow,
Smart modernist, your plays are poor,
And they who play them poorer per
For who among them will endure
Like Neilson playing Juliet?
